VanNuys, 69 Senators Urge Jewish Palestine

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

WASHINGTON—Seventy Senators, including Frederick VanNuys of Indiana have joined in making a declaration calling for "every possible encouragement to the movement for restoration of the Jews in Palestine" and offering support to the reestablishment of the Jewish national home in Palestine, Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the American Palestine Committee, announced. Senator Hillis' name was not on the declaration.

RUMMAGE SALE SET

The Hadassah Rummage Sale will take place Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, May 12, 13, and 14, with rummage being called for during the preceding week, it was announced.

Message From The Campaign Chairman

War has devasted Jewish life in Europe and has reduced the Jewish people to intolerable bondage and suffering. The Jewish community in this country represents the last outpost of hope for millions of our people ground under the heel of oppression and persecution, and for those thousands looking forward to a new life in Palestine, South and Central America and in this great land of ours.

As Americans and as Jews, we must bear the responsibility for the defense and survival of large sections of our people. The progress of the world conflict has forcefully demonstrated that our own destiny and future, and our own freedom and happiness are not isolated from the fate of our people overseas.

With the American people fully aroused to the urgency of all-out defense, and freedom-loving men and women everywhere banding together for unprecedented sacrifices to preserve civilization, American Jewry must establish new standards of sacrifice and cooperation that will measure up to the crisis and challenge of the present hour.

Only we who enjoy the blessings of peace and liberty in this beloved land can and must extend a helping hand to the less fortunate, wherever they may be, to save as many lives as possible.

The quota for this year of $161,225 is not an arbitrary amount but was set after careful study of the needs and the community's ability to give. To reach this goal which is an increase of $21,000 over a year ago, the Jewish Welfare Fund must secure more generous support than ever before from a greater number of Jewish men and women who live and work in this community. I sincerely hope there may be a diminishing of the emergency but while it does exist, we must face it squarely. I have every confidence that our community will continue to do its share in a generous and whole-hearted manner . . . not only for the sake of millions over there but for our own peace and security here.

General Chairman,
1941 Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign.

Hadassah Luncheon To Hear Book Review

Plans have been completed for the Hadassah luncheon and linen shower to be held at 12:30 p. m. next Wednesday, April 30, at the Kirshbaum Center, at which time Mrs. Ben Paller will review the novel, "Foundation Stone," by Lella Warren. A program of Jewish and American songs will be presented by Eugenia Magidson Snyder. Mrs. S. Reiskind will give the opening prayer, and Mrs. Roy

Feuerlicht's Subject Tonight Controversial

Rabbi Morris M. Feuerlicht will discuss the controversial subject, "Silence and Silences," at services at 8 p. m. this Friday night at the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation. The sermon subject will center around such questions as, "What stand can we, and should we take today?" "How outspoken should we be on the many troublesome questions of the hour," and "Wherein should silence be our guide?"

Famous Novelist, I. U. Officials Feature Program For Pilam 11-School Meeting

Special

BLOOMINGTON — The Alpha Theta chapter of Pi Lambda Phi, will play host to over 100 past and present officers of 11 universities at the Mid-Western Officer's Training School here this weekend. The conclave, which is a three day series of lectures, clinics, round-table discussions, and conferences, will be conducted by national officers and chapter advisors.

Mrs. Margaret Weymouth Jackson, famous Spencer novelist and critic, will address the fraternity guests and officers at the steak fry to be held at McCormick's Creek State park, Saturday. Climaxing the conclave will be the banquet Sunday noon at the Union Building. Ben Kaufman, chapter advisor, will act as toastmaster for the program, which will include speeches by C. E. Edmundson, I. U. Dean of Men and Thomas E. Cookson, university registrar; E. Ross Bartley, director of the news bureau, and Paul A. Feltuc, member of the university Board of Trustees. Rabbi Martin Perley, director of the I. U. Hillel Foundation, will give the invocation.

Chairman Bill Schloss Believes City To Raise Largest Sum In History

Armed only with facts and the sharp reminders to reluctant givers that they should be thankful that it is money alone that is being asked, over two hundred men, women and youngsters composing an army of mercy started its drive Friday in a campaign that will cover the city and outlying territory with determination to reach a goal of $161,225 by May 10.

General Chairman William L. Schloss expressed confidence Friday that his drive army will go over the top and bring in the largest amount ever subscribed in the history of Indianapolis.

"It's a case of 'must'," he told campaign workers this week. "Jewish communities all over the country have conducted or are conducting intensive drives with quotas set up far ahead of funds previously sought. The success reported from other communities are particularly heartening inasmuch as they indicate the awakening of American Jews to the enormity of their responsibility for saving from complete destruction millions of Jews in Europe, resettling them in other lands and making productive citizens of refugees arriving in this country. Indianapolis can and must raise its quota for our help means the difference between life and death to those over there."

Mr. Schloss urged contributors to give workers the utmost consideration, declaring that the solicitors are giving of their time, money and effort in a great humanitarian work.

The campaign this year started several days ahead of schedule to give workers time to make thorough solicitation of their pledge cards and with a view of calling on many newcomers to the city.

Report Meeting Monday

Workers will make their first report this coming Monday noon at campaign headquarters on the second floor of the Illinois Building, corner Illinois and Market streets. It is important that every worker attend this meeting and turn in a report. Prompt attendance will conserve time for all.

MRS. ROSENBERG ELECTED

Mrs. David Rosenberg has been re-elected president of the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society (Bichur Cholim) it was announced this week. Also re-elected were Mrs. Morris Barnard, vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph Solomon, secretary. The trustees are Mrs. Max Berkowitz, Mrs. L. Frankovitz, and Mrs. Simon Solotkin.

"YOUR CAUSE IS THE CAUSE OF ALL AMERICANS, FOR DEMOCRACY MUST BEGIN WITH MAN'S HUMANITY TO MAN"

—Franklin D. Roosevelt

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

February 14, 1941

Dear Friends:

I have long known of the distinguished record of your organization for widespread humanitarian service in behalf of the victims of war and persecution in many lands overseas. Because I know that millions of men, women and little children look to you for rescue, for food, for refuge and asylum, and for surcease from their overwhelming burdens, I am glad to convey to the extraordinary meeting of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee my best wishes for the success of its endeavors.

Your cause is the cause of all Americans for democracy must begin with man's humanity to man. Through the activities of your organization and other American agencies of mercy dignity, self-respect and hope for a better order of things have been restored to millions of men and women. They have thus been reminded that they are not alone in their travail and suffering; that free men and women of good will hope for their liberation and in the meantime are ready to come to their assistance.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

INDIANAPOLIS MUST RAISE $161,225!

FOUR IMPORTANT ISSUES FACE US TODAY IN THIS GREAT EMERGENCY

1. To Provide Relief and Escape for Victims Overseas.
2. To Help Settle Thousands of European Jews in Palestine, South and Central America.
3. To Aid the Redistribution and Americanization of Refugees in This Country.
4. To Meet Vital Local and National Needs of Our Own American Institutions.

THESE men and women to whom President Roosevelt refers in his letter are your kin. These children are your brethren's children. The fact that they are thousands of miles away across an ocean, that you cannot go to them in person with help and kindness, only makes their plight the harder.

THEY MUST NOT DIE! The task of rescue is enormous but it can be done . . . it is being done . . . more will be done . . . IF YOU WILL HELP. The lot of European Jewry is doubly embittered. They suffer the tragic consequences of a war which has already taken a toll among civilians as great as did all four years of the last World War. But in addition, through no fault of their own, they are subjected to cruel persecution and discrimination simply because they are Jews.

It is not only in the name of mercy that European Jews turn to you for succor. It is for the sake of the future of all Jews throughout the world . . . that means you, your children, and your children's children. So long as any Jew anywhere is insecure in his life, liberty and property; so long as any Jew anywhere is deprived of the rights of citizenship in his country; so long as any Jew anywhere starves because he is a Jew; all Jews everywhere are in danger.

GIVE GENEROUSLY!

NOT ONLY FOR THEIR SAKE, BUT FOR YOUR OWN SECURITY!

THAELES SORORITY

Special

LAFAYETTE—Our long planned rush week-end is finally here. We are going to start off with a picnic Friday on the Purdue picnic grounds. A dinner-dance in the Purdue Memorial Union Saturday night will be the chief attraction of this week-end. Fifteen girls will be guests from Indianapolis, South Bend, Milwaukee, Gary and all points east and west. Last week-end two very good friends of all of us, Sylvia Orenstein of Connecticut University and Sarah Kan of Indiana University, came down for the Junior Prom. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glazer of Anderson.

HILLEL

Special

BLOOMINGTON—Next Wednesday evening the Hillel Players give their campus presentation of "So Let'em Foreclose" in Recital Hall at the University. The play is directed by Miss Shirley Fine, New Albany with the assistance of Saul Abraham of Kearney, N. J. Included in the cast are Nadyne Bronson, Blanche Schultz, Florence Miller, Evelyn Slung, Joanne Sacks, Adolph Hecht, Saul Abraham, Jerry Becker, Sam Karnofsky, Harold Coleman, Edna Schultz, Gerry Levine, Nathan Silverman. Doovid Barskin is the accompanist and the production staff is headed by Dave Weiner and Morton Turbow.

The following students were eleected to the Student Council to replace eight students who graduate this spring: Nadyne Bronson, Max Meyer, Arnold Marks, Charles Fisch, Ruth Davis, Jeff Marks, Shelly Wagner, and Julius Brownstein.

Rabbi Perley, who has been directing the National Hillel Debate tournament, will be in Cleveland next Wednesday evening to supervise the National Finals and to present the winners with a trophy on behalf of the National Hillel Commission.

Do You Dread To Go Downtown?

Do you dread to go downtown because of the problem of parking your car? Do you find that half of the fun of a shopping or pleasure trip is marred by the wear, tear and bother of driving in congested traffic?

The answer is "Yes" if you are like most city motorists. You, like thousands of other motorists, know that every trip downtown is your auto means long and disgusting waits at stop signs, dangerous bends and twists in and out of traffic to be followed, after you arrive at your destination, by a frantic but futile search for a parking space, which usually results in your leaving your auto at an expensive parking lot.

Transit Solves All This!

Join the thousands who know that by using the trolleys and not only avoid the parking problem and the worry and danger of traffic driving, but they also save money by leaving their autos at home. The round trip fare on trolleys and buses is so small that often the money spent for a single day's rental of a parking lot space for your auto will pay your transit fare for several days.

Trolleys and buses are convenient. You "hop off" whenever and wherever you please without giving a single thought to parking. An experienced and dependable operator sees that you arrive at your destination safely. In addition, you relax as you ride without suffering from "traffic jitters," a malady that affects all persons who undergo the nervous and excitable experience of driving their autos in city traffic.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Blackschleger announce the birth of a daughter Friday, April 18, at the Methodist Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rau have returned from Glencoe, Ill., where Mrs. Rau was matron of honor at the wedding of her sister, Miss Betty Felsenthal of Glencoe and Merritt De Jong of Evansville.

* * *

A meeting of the Board of the Indiana Federation of Temple Sisterhoods has been called for May 14 at noon at the Columbia Club by the state president, Mrs. Jerome Salm of Evansville.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph L. Block are back after a trip to New York.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Block has returned from a ten days' visit with Mrs. Stella Glazer in St. Louis.

FAREWELL

To the blaring strains of "Oh, we're in the Army now!" played so exuberantly by the Biltmore Boys (who are, incidentally, a mainly kosher group), a toast was made to Leonard Larman by a party of friends Tuesday evening at the Sapphire Room. The guest of honor looked glumly at his girl friend Jackie Z., and reflected on how long a year can be. Seated around the long table were glimpsed Brother Stanley, Irving Talesnick, "Fallen Arches" Goodman, Harry Bolotin, the dateless wonder with a date in honor of Leonard's going-away, Rosalie Levinson being the lucky (?) girl, Sol Hockman, Goldie Katz, that pretty couple of Burnstien and Roth, Joan Weiss, Inda Larman, Ruth Weil, Shirley Solomon, Harry Einstandig—living proof that scotch and rye don't mix well—and probably a few more that shouldn't really be over-looked. Conspicuous by their absence were Joe Caresky and Jack Larman who, rumor has it, were well occupied by two good telephone numbers. The entire party adjourned to Eaton's later to partake of some very un-Pesachdick food. And, incidentally, orchids to Sally Roth who resisted all temptation that night and refrained from having anything at all, thereby maintaining her Pesachdick fast.

AT ENGLISH

The Jewish population certainly enjoyed Pins and Needles at English's last week. Of course, practically the whole cast was Semite, and betrayed a strictly Jewish sense of humor. It was a shame that the acoustics is such that a great many of the clever remarks in the play were lost. However, Mesdames R. Domont, Meyer Wild, and Sam Hockman enjoyed it immensely, as well as Harriet Tamler, Mike Glassner, Inda Larman, and many others.

* * *

A HINT

And, girls, if I were you I would be just a little extra nice to Peb Borinstein these days because he has an especially nice guest in the person of Joe Bennett.

* * *

NO, IT'S NOT THE DRAFT

The Star Debs are holding their breath now, in wonder at the amazing rapidity of the marriages in their club. The single girls in the organization have dwindled and are dwindling. Boy, they must have something! The girls have quit laying bets on whose engagement will be announced next since the whirlwind courtship of Lenore Cohen. She astounded even her closest friends.

DIRT FROM BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington was fairly over-flowing with guests this past week-end what with the Junior Prom Friday night, and the S. A. M. Formal Saturday night. Dancing to the seductive music of Ray Noble were such couples as Rose Steiber and Lenny Weinraub, Jud Frommer and a luscious southern belle, Gladys Gittleman (the illustrious I. Wilson Gittleman's sister), Mort Turbow and Gerry Levine, Doov Barskin and Rose Mazursky, Lester Shaiken and import Rita (whom he has pinned), Bob Goldstein and a Fort Wayne import, Sol Blickman and handsome Shirley Trockman, and many, many others. Dick Black, playing the gallant for once, insisted upon carrying his date over a muddy area to his car only to drop her in the middle of it. Oh, well, he meant well.

The Prom queen drew many sighs from the masculine attendance, but not nearly as many as the two attractive blonde girls in the trio with Ray Noble's band. They were identical twins. Jeannie Sacks being likened to a six-year old by super-man Whitney Greenberg, Saturday in front of Gables. She may be small, but she sure is mighty. Witness to that fact is Chicagoan Mort. Whitney, incidentally, did very well with his big brother line at the hotel Saturday night—he did so well, in fact, that several of his fraternity brothers have decided to adopt it temporarily. Wouldn't it be awful if all the boys decided to play "big brother" to the girls at school? That would kind of spoil the fun, wouldn't it?

* * *

Seen at the S. A. M. Dance vainly trying to dance on the crowded floor were Herb Backer, Sam New, Shirley Fine, June Spiegal, Bob Nerenberg, Blanche Schultz, Zeke Linker (minus a few more hairs, but with a kid brother owning a full head of healthy hair) brandishing his poor brother's head as though it were his own. I guess he's proud of the fact that one member of the family has some. Also, Lou and Bernie Finkle those two leading exponents of that low form of humor—the pun, Ruth Marx, Flo Miller, Alumnus Harry Bush seen actively renewing friendship with the girl he met at last year's spring formal, Sid Schecter, Sammy Sacks, Julian Glazer, Annette Abel, Sid Cahn, Phil Trockman, Sam Torno well, I could go on forever, but that's a fair idea of the crowd.

The fun started at the fraternity house after the boys took their 12:30 girls home and strayed back into the place. Then, the line siz-zagged to the hotel where everything happened from pillow-fights to poker games. "General" Marv Smith and Sam New contested for the company of Marv's Purdue import. However the odds were against New from the beginning and he finally gave up at the early hour of 4:30 and went to sleep in somebody's bed.

J. W. V. Head Here

To Attend Meeting

Fred S. Harris of Meriden, Mass., national commander of the Jewish War Veterans of U. S., will be in Indianapolis May 1 and 2, attending the sessions of the executive committee of the American Legion. Circle Bus Station Popular With Public

Hundreds of city motor coach riders are daily making use of the new Circle Bus Station which was recently opened for their convenience by Indianapolis Railways.

Located at 110 Monument Circle in the English Hotel Building, the Circle Bus Station is conveniently located adjacent to the principal downtown boarding point in the local motor coach system.

Housewives on shopping tours, business men going to and from their offices, children en route to school and riders on pleasure trips sit down and relax in solid comfort as they wait downtown for their motor coach to come along.

Vehicles are announced over a public address system as they arrive. Comfortable seats are available. A confectionery shop is operated in the station for public convenience.

The Circle Bus Station opens at 6:30 a. m. on week days and at 8:30 a. m. Sundays. The nightly closing hour is shortly after midnight.

HEBREW CALENDAR

Shevuoth	June 1
Tisha B'ab	Aug. 2
Rosh Hashanah	Sept. 22
Yom Kippur	Oct. 1

Holidays begin at sundown the day before the date designated.

The Editor's Chair:

I witnessed the most impressive single incident in all my connectionw ith B'nai B'rith in Louisville a week ago. The Louisville lodge had just conducted its annual Spring membership drive, and 175 new members, making the lodge larger than the Indianapolis lodge, were to be inducted. I attended the initiation. Over a hundred of the new candidates were inducted into membership by as fine an exhibition of the B'nai B'rith ritual as is possible. The degree team was composed of men whom Indiana Ben B'riths have known for a long time: Hugo Taustine, Bernar Goldstein, Alec Berman and Irving Levitan. Robed in long green gowns, with yarmelkies on their heads, and with all of the proper paraphanelia, the men went through an initiation which must have thrilled the new candidates even more than it moved an old campaigner like myself.

Incidentally while on the subject of B'nai B'rith, I should mention that a meeting last Sunday in Lexington, Ky., saw the first step towards the formation of the Kentucky State Association of B'nai B'rith, a move which this paper and most of the officers of the Indiana-Kentucky State Association have urged for years. The Louisville lodge and the Lexington lodge were members of our Indiana Association, but due to the great distances between these cities and some of our Northern Indiana cities, it was impossible to expect full participation in activities. Ben B'riths will miss such stalwarts as Tony Levitan, Harry Resnick, Max Waldman and Louis Cohen, who have many, many friends in our Association.

200 Attend Lodge Meet In Hammond

Special

HAMMOND—The Northern Indiana group meeting of the Indiana State Association of B'nai B'rith was held here last Sunday with over 200 Ben B'riths in attendance. Papers were read by Henry Fleck of Marion, and Emanual Sugar of Whiting. Saul Munter of Indianapolis also spoke on the Hillel Foundations work at Indiana and Purdue.

URGED FOR OFFICE

Special

GARY—Friends of David Grand are boosting him for vice commander of the Northern Indiana American Legion. He is a former Memorial Post commander and former commander of the 40 and 8.

Measure of What To Give

THE question of how much to give in the annual Jewish Welfare Fund drive, which this year opens officially Friday morning, although it probably never becomes serious enough to warrant consignment to hospital wards for severe cases, does present some problems, mostly because unlike taxes there is no definite basis for computation. Either one gives because he genuinely wants to help to the utmost of his ability, or as in too many cases because he is either shamed into it, forced into it by community circumstances or just has so much that giving is one method of getting rid of some of it.

But although there is no mathematical formula for determining the amount to give, there are some criteria which pretty definitely sets what a man must give if he is to retain his own self respect.

If a man took a vacation to Florida this winter, he should give at least an amount equal to what his trip cost him. If he took a vacation this winter and one last summer, then he should give twice the amount that both of these vacations cost.

If a man bought a 1941 automobile and it was a make costlier than a low price car, then he should give $200. If he traded in a 1940 model, then he should give at least $300.

If a man is a member of a Jewish country club then he should give at least as much as the total of his membership dues and the other expenses incurred as a result of that membership.

If a man plays poker or indulges in some other game of chance regularly, then he should give four times his losses.

If one of these categories does not fit every member of the community, then he is such a righteous man that this editorial has no application for him. But the trouble with this editorial and the possibility of its having any effect anyway is that in paragraph two an attribute is singled out, which has no meaning for so many members of the community.

Local Rabbis Issue Appeal for Generous Giving To Fund

In a city-wide apeal Rabbis of Indianapolis congregations called upon contributors to assure the success of the Jewish Welfare Fund campaign by adequate giving.

RABBI MORRIS M. FEUERLICHT
Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation

The extraordinary needs facing our Jewish Welfare Fund this year will require an extraordinary response from every individual among us. The continuance of Judaism and of Jewish life both locally and throughout the world has never pressed with such tragic heaviness upon us as in the current period of the world's emergency. Every instinct of true Americanism and true Judaism demands that we respond financially in due proportion to the extraordinary pressure of this emergency. Accordingly I am confident that every individual among us worthy of the name of Jew and American will contribute of his means in a measure sufficiently generous to meet the needs of this year's Welfare Fund campaign.

RABBI MAURICE GOLDBLATT
Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation

It would seem altogether unnecessary to make an appeal in behalf of the Jewish Welfare Fund now. The mere mention of the approaching collection should start a stream of gifts rolling into headquarters. For surely no one needs receive a special request for funds at this time. How can we read of what is transpiring in the world at war without wanting to assist in every way the victims of relentless aggression and persecution? Or how can we fail to read between the lines of the overwhelming needs which are the lot of Jews across the seas? Indianapolis Jewry, I am confident, will respond with increased contributions to reach successfully the goal of the 1941 Jewish Welfare Fund.

RABBI ELIAS CHARRY
Congregation Beth-El Zedeck

A glance at the daily newspapers should convince even the most callous Jews that this is the time to give to the utmost. The Jewish Welfare Fund represents the sole Jewish agency here through which his gift will become effective. Entire nations are now straining every resource to carry on the battle for survival. Can we do less for Jewish survival?

In the world today much is at stake for the Jew. It is not alone physical protection that is required, though that in itself represents a tremendous task to be performed. The very possibility of Judaism and the Jew to continue to live is what really hangs in the balance. Aid for those who suffer, suport for the upbuilding of Palestine and for the strengthening of the Yishuv, which undoubtedly is a most important front in this war, support for all those institutions in America and abroad which spell hope and life . . . these are the things that the Jews in Indianapolis are now asked to do and we must do our part with the greatest measure of magnanimity and decency. Just because the hour is dark, the fullest measure of devotion is expected. This is the time to test your own loyalty to your people and its future. Let us give while we have yet the possibility of giving. Let us give and thank God that he has provided us with blessings denied to millions of our fellow human beings. Let us share our blessings abundantly.

RABBI SAMUEL A. KATZ
Congregation Sharah Tefilla

In our solemn prayers for the Jews who have been reduced to wandering and indescribable misery, let us give thanks that we are still able to extend help to those for whom the lights of humanity have been dimmed. The strength that keeps the Jewish people alive is faith in the Almighty, faith in Israel itself, and faith in the Jews of America who must fulfill their sacred duty in rescuing the Jews of Europe and in rebuilding the ancient homeland in Palestine. The Jewish Welfare Fund provides the opportunity to meet this great emergency. Let us contribute in a measure necessary to do our part adequately. Ours will then be the satisfaction of saving and rehabilitating the lives of our brothers throughout the world.

RABBI MICHEL B. ALBAGLI
Sephardic Congregation

All the year round our hearts burn with sympathy for the desperate plight of our fellow Jews in the oppressed sectors of Europe. And once each year, during the annual Jewish Welfare Fund campaign, we have the chance to translate our sympathy into action by giving of our means in order to rescue those who live in the shadow of want and destruction.

The year 1941, certainly the blackest in the annals of Jewish history, calls for sacrificial giving on the part of every Jew. We must each make a contribution which represents a real sacrifice. When the future of all Israel depends upon the generosity of its children situated in this fortunate land of liberty, surely the most we can give is the very least we can do.

Complains About Inability to Get Passover Meals

To the Editor:

I should like to call your attention to a disturbing situation which confronts Indianapolis Jewry, but with the Passover holidays over it seems almost pointless to criticize this lack of facilities in our city for securing meals compatable with the spirit of the festival.

Try as I might to live up to the proper observance of the holidays I was forced, either through lack of community planning or through strange coincidence to forego my honest intentions. Surely there are others who were also faced with this problem. It is larger than one individual and certainly of significance to all of us.

Private enterprises are in business for profit. It is hardly likely that they would assume the heavy cost of preparing for the holidays unless they could be assured of patronage adequate to meet the cost and ensure a good margin of return.

Perhaps a subsidy by local Jewish synagogues is the answer. Perhaps the rabbis should assume the task of meeting this problem. Surely it must not remain an unanswered need.

Especially during these times of oppression and tyranny is it important to reinforce our historic understanding of Jewish life. If that opportunity is denied us, can we be said then to be of blame?

DISTURBED.

Indianapolis.

If the rabbis and synagogues who seem concerned enough about the Mikveh to impose a tax on kosher-slaughtered chickens, do not care to assume this obvious responsibility, then The Jewish Post next year will serve strictly kosher Passover meals in its office all during the holidays next year.
